The Normal School.

It should be borne in mind that the time is rapidly approaching when the decision as to the location of the Normal School, will be made. To any one who will give the subject a moment's reflection, the importance to a place of such an institution, will be at once manifest. Not only will it give the town a State and National reputation, but it will call together a class of minds which will tend to elevate the general tone of intelligence in any community. And farther, it cannot fail to add largely to the population of a place, and thereby enhance the value of property.

The normal school system is not an experiment, but has been tried in other States and found to work admirably. Whatever place, therefore, gets this institution in its midst will get something permanent.

All these things are worthy of the consideration of the people of this city, and they ought at once to give the matter their earnest attention. We can offer the Board such inducements as will influence them to name Janesville as the point for the school. Shall it not be done?

We copy the following paragraph from an article in the Chicago Tribune of yesterday relative to the Illinois Normal School, by which it will be seen that the institution in that State is regarded as a triumphant success:

"The Illinois Normal University, at Bloomington, has passed beyond the domain of experiment and has become a fact in our State history, as honorable to the people's liberality as it will be by and by to prove to be beneficial to their intelligence. The recent commencement, bringing out the annual exhibit of the financial and educational condition of the institution, shows that by the aid of the Legislature every dollar of the acknowledged indebtedness has been paid; that more than seven hundred young men and women, some of whom have been, and all of whom propose to be teachers, are in attendance; that the standards of scholarship and ability are yearly being elevated to a higher mark; that the general condition of the school is decidedly healthful and progressive; and that hereafter, depending upon its accumulated resources (the University lands donated to the State by the General Government), it will be self-sustaining. This is a statement that carries with it the most flattering assurances for the future, and we trust that wise and careful management will be able to realize all of them for the blessing of the rising generation."

A Turkish Bath in New York.

A lady in New York who had just for the first time taken a Turkish bath, in that city, writes to a friend as follows:

Fresh from the bath, Nell: I fancy now. They are scarce luxuries in this country, but let me describe one to you while I am still glowing with the warmth and friction generously bestowed, and my mind and body sympathizing with each other in elasticity and lightness. I am inclined to have a very good opinion of my looks reflected in the glass, and consider the present fresh, rosy hue, a good exchange for the old, sallow look. But come with me and take a bath, in imagination at least, and see if it is not well worth giving a good deal of pains to enjoy.

We go down a flight of stairs, open a door to the right, and enter the Frigidarium, which, to translate to your unaccustomed ears, means a nice, comfortable room, filled with easy chairs, and lined around with low, cushioned, apartments, which are dressing rooms, ten in number. You enter one of these apartments, disrobe yourself of your attire, and take upon you the bath garment, which is a single garment of rectangular shape and Turkey-red hue, known as a "Cummerbund." This is tied artistically over the right shoulder, passing under the left one, and descends about to the knee; thence you proceed to the next room—the Tepidarium. As you open the door the air within seems hot as an oven; but don't shrink back; you have not reached the hottest place yet; and in a moment or two the sensation is very pleasant. You seat yourself on a soft cushioned lounge, and attendants wait your head in cold water and wrap your forehead in a wet towel, place a rub of warm water on your temples, and having immersed your feet in water, you lay your head back and relax your mind and body to the point of unconsciousness.

This journal had ability and vigor, and among its many claims upon the reading public was Mitchell's own "Jail Journal," which appeared serially in its columns and has since been published in book form. It professed to be a journal of his life, from his conviction to his escape, and though necessarily confidential, was not without interest. Its most noticeable point, however, was the ostentatious exhibition of his knowledge of Greek and Latin authors, with which his name was associated.

And now it would be for me to say that the world to go to sleep. Soon the perspiration begins to start, and we are conducted by our attendant, from luxurious warmth to luxurious coolness, into what you learn to be the "Sudatorium," meaning in a free translation, the hot place. You are stretched upon a lounge, a sheet thrown over you, and the air envelopes you like a liquid element, warm, delicious, and there you lie bathed in a profuse perspiration, and you are wet with tears of sweat. Then you are laid upon the shampooing bench in the middle of the room, and your limbs and body rubbed and kneaded till all the old skin is gone and every joint is limbered, while pains and aches flee to parts unknown. A sponge bath of soap suds and a shower bath, the temperature gradually lessening from warm to cool, a brisk rubbing with a cotton sheet, and you go back to the Tepidarium, cool a little, and then to the Frigidarium, where for the first time you feel that it deserves its name, from its contrast to the hot air you have been in. But a good, motherly, soft woolen blanket keeps you warm, and you sit in one of the easy chairs, till you feel ready to go back to the every day world once more, fresh with vigor and life.

DEATH OF THE ARCHITECT OF THE CRYSTAL PALACE.—The Asia brought news of the death of Sir Joseph Paxton, the architect and horticulturist. He first became famous as an architect by reason of his success as Superintendent of the Palace of the Crystal Palace for the World's Exhibition, and the edifice was built under his superintendence. For his services at that instance, he was knighted. He constructed the enlarged and remodelled Sydenham Crystal Palace, having charge of the laying out of the grounds as well. Sir Joseph Paxton was twice or three times elected to the House of Commons. He was author of, or contributor to, a number of horticultural publications. At the time of his death he was sixty-two years of age.

J. C. CONYERSE, Esq., of Beloit, delivers an oration at Brodhead on the 4th.

John Mitchell's Antecedents.

From the Philadelphia Press.

It was an insult to the nation that the editor of the Richmond Examiner, the chief scribble of the pseudo-government of Jefferson Davis, should have been allowed to return to New York, to continue writing, in the Daily News there, in precisely the same spirit of his articles at Richmond. It was an outrage upon loyalty, and the man who committed it has not been arrested one hour too soon.

John Mitchell was informed by a friend of Mitchell's, one Judge McCann, that "the Government cannot try Mitchell as a traitor, for he is an alien, and none but citizens can be tried as traitors." McCann here made two statements, one of the fact and the other of law, both of which are as wrong as wrong can be. John Mitchell is not an alien, and is a naturalized citizen. Late in 1863, he declared his intention (as the phrase is,) to become an American citizen, and, in the fullness of time, was admitted as such. The assertion that none but citizens could be tried for treason is equally incorrect, and does not tempt us to place much reliance upon the legal knowledge of McCann. By the laws of Virginia, the natives of any State who have borne arms against the United States thereby cease to be citizens of that Commonwealth, and therefore Mitchell thus becoming alienized, would, by the very term itself, according to the sagacious McCann, be liberated from trial as a traitor, because his own act has broken his citizenship! The law of nations, practically, is that whoever commits treason in any country is liable to be there arrested, tried, and punished on conviction. Let Judge McCann personally make the experiment in Ireland or France—he need not go beyond Cuba if he wish to test the question.

John Mitchell, who is now nearly fifty years old, is a son of a Protestant clergyman, and was born in Ireland. He received a good education, graduated at Trinity College, Dublin, subsequently became an attorney, and was in respectable practice in Newry when he plunged deeply into Irish politics, about the time of the monster repeal meetings held in 1845. On the death of Thomas Davis in 1845, he became associate editor of the Nation, which was certainly the best written and most influential newspaper ever published in Ireland, up to that time. Even the politics of Davis were re-stinted with poetry, but the articles written by Mitchell were fierce, stern, trenchant and audacious. He had been, when in a few years, a being of unusual attention, he suggested that, in the event of any street encounter between the populace and regular army, the latter might be seriously injured by throwing vitriolic acid upon them out of the windows. From that time, (as the Nation was prosecuted for this particular article,) Mr. Charles Gaven Duffy, proprietor and principal editor, exercised a strict surveillance over Mr. Mitchell's contributions, and the result was that, becoming irritated at his fiercest denunciations being prudently cut out, he quitted the Nation toward the end of 1847, and established a weekly paper of his own, called the United Irishman. Compared with this, every other ultra journal in Dublin was colored and mild. Its avowed object was to provoke the Government to prosecute it—Mitchell's personal ambition being that, in the then excited state of the public mind, no jury would agree to convict him. Perhaps the Irish Government had the same belief, for it bore with the most violent and bitter taunts from Mitchell's pen for three months. Then, taking courage, it suppressed the United Irishman, and arrested Mitchell on a charge of sedition. His trial and conviction soon followed—in May, 1848—and he was speedily put on board a steamship, and sent to Bermuda, en route to Australia—his sentence being transportation for fourteen years. At this time he was thirty-three years old. The colonial authorities, who had charge of him, were instructed to treat him "as a person of education and gentleman," but he naturally desired to obtain his liberty, and, having resigned the parole on which he was allowed comparative freedom, he fled from his place of banishment in July, 1853, and arrived in New York in the following November. His reception there was most enthusiastic—the Irish especially regarding him as a martyr to their cause—and he prudently availed himself of his popularity to establish a weekly journal of politics and literature, entitled The Citizen.

This journal had ability and vigor, and among its many claims upon the reading public was Mitchell's own "Jail Journal," which appeared serially in its columns and has since been published in book form. It professed to be a journal of his life, from his conviction to his escape, and though necessarily confidential, was not without interest. Its most noticeable point, however, was the ostentatious exhibition of his knowledge of Greek and Latin authors, with which his name was associated.

The Crops.

The Ottawa (Canada) Citizen says that it is the general impression throughout the country that for all agricultural purposes, this season, so far as it has advanced, is the most favorable that has been witnessed for many years. Never perhaps was there more prospect of abundance.

The Greensburg (Indiana) Chronicle says that the storm of wind and rain which occurred on Sunday last, did considerable damage to growing crops, especially oats. Wheat was damaged to some extent and heavy timothy was prostrated where it was not sheltered by timber.

The Lafayette county (Ohio) Herald says that the wheat harvest has commenced in this county, and the crop, we believe, is likely to yield well. There is the heaviest crop of grass in this county this year that we ever saw.

The Hillsboro (Ohio) News hears much complaint from farmers of this township, Paint and Washington, of injury to the wheat from smut and weevil. Some fields are represented to be so bad as not to be worth cutting. The smooth wheat and the late sown are the most affected. Where the grain has escaped these enemies, the prospect is good for a heavy yield, and of excellent quality.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says of the crops in Michigan: "The yield of wheat will be large in this State. It looks uniformly well. The hay crop is unusually large. Fruit is in great abundance. The crop of peaches will be larger than it has been for years."

The Cleveland Leader of Thursday says: "A trip through several counties adjacent and in the central portion of the State enables us to speak assuredly when we say that grain and grass never looked finer, and the harvest will be nearly, or quite a fortnight earlier than usual. The waving fields of wheat in Stark, Wayne, Holmes and contiguous counties are already donning their golden robe, and barley, of which a great breadth was sown, is almost as forward. The insect, except in rare cases, where lands were late sown, is doing no damage, and heavy winds have been so frequent that the grain stands up straight, the heads bending with their weight. Such a hay crop has not been known for years. Oats are up nearly to heading, and corn and potatoes are rivaling in promise the other crops. Verily, the soil of our great State is marvelous in richness—tickle her broad bosom with a hoe and she laughs with a harvest. The severe frost in May injured the fruit crop greatly, except in a few favored localities, and enough apples will not be raised for local consumption, and of peaches and cherries there are none. On the whole, our people never had a finer prospect for abundant and cheap eatables, for the weather continues fine, with enough, but not too much rain. Let us all rejoice."

The Rockville (Md.) Sentinel concludes an article on the crop: "Indeed, take it 'by and large,' as the old saw goes, we think our agricultural friends have less reason to despond than any other class of the community, and to verify the language of the ancient Latin poet: 'Oh, fortunate farmers, could you but appreciate your own advantages!' The Toledo Blade of the 22d, says: 'We hear complaints of the ravages of the weevil in the wheat fields in some localities, and have been shown samples from fields at the West which would be likely to cause apprehensions for the growing crop. Our exchanges in some parts of Indiana allude to the matter, and state explicitly that the operations of the insect are confined to the low, level ground, and that whilst the yield will be lessened, it is hardly possible that it can be reduced even to the largest average. In this latter opinion there is great unanimity.'

[From the Shawano News (Wis.) Mercury, 15th.] Everything indicates a flourishing season. Grain of all varieties is growing rapidly and looks promising. Apples, peaches, grapes and, in fact, all fruit, portend a large and productive yield.

[From the Fairbairn (Minn.) Democrat, 15th.] Our country has just been blessed with a refreshing rain, and farmers think if the season continues favorable there will be a good crop of corn raised.

[From the Bloomington (Ill.) Pantograph, 20.] WINTER WHEAT.—Our farmers would have been lucky had they sown winter wheat the last fall. What little there was put in has so far matured that we are able to state the crops are magnificent.

[From the Rock Island Union, 20th.] THE RAIN.—No complaint is now heard on account of the late rain. Enough has fallen during the last week to answer all purposes. Vegetation of all kinds has taken on a new growth, and the prospect is a large yield of every description of farm products.

CITY NOTICES.

THE CULTIVATOR OF CORN.—The large amount of corn to be planted this season, renders it necessary for the producer to have some improved implement for its cultivation. To meet this demand, I am now building "The Badger State" gig corn planter.

After six months experimenting with different models, we have one which we are willing should be put to the test, and that it should stand or fall on its own merits. A lengthy description does not seem to be necessary. We will simply say that we are confident it will perform all that any cultivator will, and all that any farmer will require of it. It has six shovels, or four, as desired. The shovels are so arranged as to cultivate wide or narrow shallow or deep; and they all have a very easy side motion. To say that they are made under the supervision of G. F. Lane, is a sufficient guarantee that they will be well made. In fact, they will be warranted in every respect.

The Badger State gig cultivator will be sold this season at $50 at the shop.

Call and see it at the shop one block south of the Hyatt House.

SEWING-MACHINES.—Of the many inventions and improvements of sewing-machines, none have so satisfactorily stood the test of time and service as Grover & Baker's. They have taken the highest premiums at the recent State Fairs of fifteen States; they have, moreover, received the warmest eulogiums from all persons who have ever used the machines, and those who have had opportunities to compare the different styles of machines, generally prefer Grover & Baker's to any other. They do the work neatly and well, do not get out of order, and are readily adapted to any kind of sewing. We would advise our lady readers, who are in want of a sewing-machine, to call at Grover & Baker's.—Brooklyn Standard.

MORRELL'S ELECTRA-MAGNETIC FLUID.—It has been a settled scientific fact that disease is the result of the disturbance of the magnetic forces of the system. That being the case, the natural conclusion would necessarily be, that that which will restore a perfect circulation must be a specific. This the electro-magnetic fluid effects, on applying it simply to the surface. Its powers are truly marvelous. It is indicated in all cases when there is a lack of magnetic circulation, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, palsy, bronchitis, consumption, stiff limbs, swollen joints, spasms, cramps, fits, deafness, sore eyes, scrofula, syphilis, cancer, white swelling, prolapsus and other female diseases, &c. Morrell's Magnet Salve is highly recommended for the cure of cuts, bruises, old sores and burns. If applied to a burn immediately, it will stop it from blistering, and take out the fire at once.

Prepared by Richmond & Morrell, Chicago, Illinois. For sale by E. F. Colwell, C. R. Curtis, E. Rider & Son, and C. B. Colwell, Janesville, Wisconsin, my27dawl560.

AGRICULTURAL.—Members of the Rock County Agricultural Society will bear in mind that their next quarterly meeting comes off on the 1st Saturday of July, 1865, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the usual place of holding said meetings. This is an important meeting, as will be seen by referring to Section 8 of the By-Laws, therefore a general attendance is necessary.

The people of Rock county will also bear in mind that the next sale and exchange day is to be held on the Fair ground Friday next, the 30th inst. It is hoped that a lively interest will be manifested. JACOB FOWLE, Sec'y.

THIRD SERIES, $230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, General Subscriptions, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1885 and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS

These Bonds are now with a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County, and Municipal taxation, which a full to three per cent. per annum in their value, according to the rate fixed upon their purchase. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7-30 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

Ten cents " " " $100 " "

Twenty " " " $200 " "

Forty " " " $400 " "

Notes of all denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent. instead of 7-30 in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven Thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this Third Series affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The notes to be paid in gold, in the event which will give the option to pay in gold, will be sold at a price of 100 cents, and will be fully equivalent to these made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency. This is

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

Now offered by the Government, and its popular advantage makes it

Great Popular Loan of the People.

Great loan $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being sold, will all be subscribed within two months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on the issue of the Treasury Notes of other loans.

In view of the fact that every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Banks throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

JAY COOKE, Subscriptions Agent, BALTIMORE, Md.

Subscriptions will be received by the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Janesville, ROCK COUNTY NATIONAL BANK of Janesville, and by all banks.

HANLEY'S SOLILOQUY.

APPEARED TO THE PRESENT TIME.

To grow or not to grow, That is the question.

Whether 'tis wiser to endure the pain Of Indigestion, Or to take arms against One's forward troubles, And then to see the sea, Drown his own bubbles.

The thirteenth annual shocks That flesh is heir to, Pangs of all sorts and kinds

That rack and tear, for These we can shoo off, Like broken fatters.

If we but take to time, Hostetter's Bitters. Devotedly do we wish

Such consummation? Then let us seek at once Recuperation.

To die? To sleep—no more; But why? or wherefor? Is not long life, with health,

A thing to care for? Let us faithfully prevent Disease's rigor.

Hostetter's Bitters give Strength, health and vigor.

A Small Investment

That will bring Ample Return.

IT WILL WASH FROM ONE TO TWENTY PIECES AT ONCE!

Our machine is as perfect as ever any machine will be. It will wash in the most perfect manner all fabrics from a collar to a blanket, with the greatest ease and speed, and garments will last twice as long when washed in this.

A Blanket can be placed in the machine with a dozen dirty collars, and the collar washed clean, without doing the least injury to the blanket. It is the simplest as well as the cheapest machine now in use.

The washing is entirely under the control of the operator, so that dirty parts of garments can be washed without unnecessarily rubbing the clean parts.

This machine can only be appreciated by seeing it in operation. Now an exhibition and sale by
